The GPASC Autism Spectrum Conditions Awareness

Programme for GPs is a 2.5 hour presentation available to all GP practices and Primary Care settings. It addresses the clinical priorities:

- The awareness of autism as a possible diagnosis in both children and adults.
- The awareness of the reasonable adjustments that may be needed to allow equitable access to healthcare for individuals on the autistic spectrum.
- The awareness that consultation skills for those with autism are different
- The awareness that physical and mental health problems may present very differently in an autistic patient compared to a neuro-typical patient (Source RCGP Position Statement: Clinical priorities for ASC) More details.

An 'in-work' autism learning programme

We have developed a unique programme for staff understanding, development, and performance. Our programme will ensure the support your staff provide is aligned with the latest thinking and practice for supporting individuals with autism.

Each member of your staff is equipped with a high quality workbook and links to online resources that are matched to individual learning activities e.g. videos and templates.

KNUB is all about:

Implementing best practice

Individualising support

Making sure that learning improves outcomes

The programme is supportive, developmental and enjoyable for all staff at any level.

We have piloted the programme with two large autism service providers and had some great feedback. MORE
